Project name: Artists in kindergarten - interpretation of a work of art in pre-primary education

Grant agency and project no.: KEGA 004KU-4/2019

Project duration: 2019-2021

Project leader for FE CU: doc. PaedDr. Ivana Rochovská, PhD.

Annotation:

The main topic of the project is the issue of interpretation of art in pre-primary education, especially art / visual, music, literary and dramatic art. Based on current curricular documents for pre-primary education, the topic of interpretation of a work of art is part of several educational areas, especially Art and Culture, Language and Communication, but also Man and the World of Work and others. The research team conducts research on the current state of use of the interpretation of a work of art in pre-primary education in Slovakia. The focus of the project is the design and verification of methodological materials for kindergarten teachers with a focus on the interpretation of works of art and their implementation in practice by organizing professional seminars, competitions of children's creativity and creating a program of continuous education for teachers. The empirical level of the project is to examine the relationship between the ability of kindergarten teachers to acquire knowledge of art history, their relationship to art and the use of art interpretation in their own pedagogical practice.
